

THE GECKO

Edition 36
July 2022

Welcome to the July 2022 edition of The Gecko.

We only had one group activity this quarter and that was rained out! Oh, the joys of being a land carer.

But we have three more planting days planned for July – let's hope at least one of them is on a fine day.

April to June 2022

April and May 2022

Due to the peak of COVID hitting during these months, no activities were held during April and May.

9 June 2022

Last winter we salvaged plants from where the State Football Centre is currently being constructed. On the 9th of June the City of Canning's Natural Area Team helped four volunteers settle these plants into their new home.

The weather kept more volunteers away but helped water in the plants as we worked (it rained constantly but stopped as soon as we had finished!).

The City of Canning Natural Areas Team helped with the planting.

A big THANK YOU goes to Ian, Jackie, Rosemary, Sian and the City of Canning's Natural Areas Team for helping out with these, and other, activities in the bushland.

Upcoming activities

July 2 - Planting will be happening from 10.00am to noon at two locations at the same time – 59 Russell Street, and 133 Thomas Street, both in East Cannington. This will be followed by a free lunch at Russell Park (34 Russell Street) from noon.

July 6 - Planting will be happening from 9.30am to 11.30am at 36 Gianatti Ramble, East Cannington.

July 31 - We'll be planting from 9.00am to noon at the corner of Gibbs Street and Luyer Avenue, East Cannington. A community event will be held alongside the planting with a free sausage sizzle provided by the Canning Lions Club. Register for this last event by calling Lana Harvey-Draper on 0427 418 621.

August and September activities are to be confirmed.
